

A little piece of Yellowstone arrives in Mansonville

MABLE HASTINGS

Following a story in The Record readers a few weeks ago entitled, "Mom, I want to Live in Yellowstone," the autographed and framed photo donated by Yellowstone wildlife photographer, Sandy Sisti following a letter to her from Youth Centre member, Ethan Ball, arrived this week and has found a new home on the wall of the Missisquoi North Youth Centre in Mansonville. Pictured here are a group of the youth posing with the photo after it was officially hung on the wall this past Saturday.
