“Passion evening” in Potton (music and videos of the 60s)

As of March 14 we will finally begin “deconfining” and the Municipality of Potton Cultural and Heritage Consultative Committee is anxious to start offering activities again under the Municipal umbrella. The committee invites you to the first social activity for the group in some time. The free event will be held in the St.Cajetan Catholic Church basement located on Rue Principale in Mansonville on Saturday, March 19 at 7 p.m. and is free of charge however reservations are required in advance by contacting 450-292-3313 poste 228 or emailing Loisirs@potton.ca

According to Lucie Maurer, a member of the committee and the creator of the video/music montage, the evening will be in a “bistro” format.

“The committee has done this type of activity in the past and for those who have never attended these types of presentations, I am pleased to explain,” said Maurer. “First, you reserve your seats as indicated above with a pre-reservation, then you organize your table with your friends (6-8 per table), and finally, you bring your favourite beverage (wine, beer, cola, etc.) and a snack (cheese, crackers, chips, sushi, veggies and dip, desserts...), whatever you wish,” she explained.

The tables will be decorated in a

“bistro” atmosphere with tablecloths and candles. Attendees will be able to snack throughout the evening during the presentation. There will be an intermission after the first hour with coffee available.

“I’m hoping we will have space for dancing,” said Maurer smiling. “I feel that the music and on screen images accompanying it will bring back good memories for all and may inspire some to want to dance,” she said.

Maurer who works one day per week at the CABMN Volunteer Centre with the Senior Services program is quick to share the benefits of music for all.

“Studies have shown that music is a universal language and researchers around the world continue to investigate music’s therapeutic benefits,” she stated. “Music is a wonderful, safe, simple and inexpensive strategy to support health and wellbeing.”

Maurer’s passion for projects that allow her to match images to music and then share this talent with others is a joy for her and an evening like this upcoming event is always rewarding.

“I do this because I love it,” she stated. “I hope that people come out in large numbers and that this will be the beginning of our transition into positive days
