“Belles Feuilles” Mother’s Day craft market

THE SCOOP MABLE HASTINGS

The grandmother granddaughter duo, Sarah Bellefeuille Woodard and Jeanette Bellefeuille are planning yet another craft market in Potton on Saturday, April 30 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the basement of the Mansonville Catholic Church located at 324, Principale Mansonville.

With some 30 artisans taking part the list of eager participants include: Passion Bellefeuille, Tartes Maison, Maite Tess, Creation Marie Andree, Creations Nyctale, Lucie Letourneau, Savonnerie Eve Garden, TalboStyle, Mamzellicorne, Debbie Stephen, Karen Ferraz, Nicole Brunet, La Touche Finale, Dynamique Leggings, Les elementerres du nord, Johanne Gagnon, Creations Bo Fil, John Murphy, Trevor Mckinven, Epicure, GTS Graphics, Rainbow Creations, France Gregoire, DoTERRA, KJC Fundraiser, Tara Graves-Jersey, Heather Kritzinger, Tasha-Marie Chubby, Lisa Torjman and Caitlin (Granola).

For one of the craftspeople who will be attending, these sales provide an opportunity to get together with other artists and to connect with community.

“I learned how to sew by making masks during the Covid Pandemic,” said Nathalie Girard of Creations

Nyctale. “I was encouraged to expand on my product line with a suggestion from my sister to offer eco-friendly products that are re-usable, washable and permeable,” she added. “This allows those who are environmentally conscious the opportunity to eliminate waste and save money in the long run.”

Girard has created two new products for this upcoming market, a baguette bag and loaf or baked goods bag. Her products are made from 100% cotton with a polyester lining and come in a variety of sizes, colors and formats. She even has a bag for transporting pies and dessert platters. If you wish to contact her directly she can be reached at: creationsnyctale@gmail.com or call 514-710-6928.

For the Bellefeuille duo, Jeanette Bellefeuille is responsible for communication and exchanging with the artists and her granddaughter Sarah is the computer and logistics person.

“We are the perfect pair,” said Jeanette. “We do this to promote Potton and surrounding artists, to encourage their talents and creativity and to bring joy and products to those who come to purchase locally,” she said.

This marks the fifth sale for this year and they are planning on doing more in the coming months.

There will be a lunch for sale at the Market including sandwiches, soup, desserts and beverages all at bargain prices and all homemade. There will be live music to add to the ambiance.

“We are referring to this as a Mother’s Day Craft Sale as we feel it is the perfect place to purchase a wonderful gift for any mother, mother-in-law or mother-to-be,” said Bellefeuille. “The Market is only successful if people attend and that is our mission,” she added.
