Two of Potton's many dynamic volunteers receive special recognition

THE SCOOP

MABLE HASTINGS

As National Volunteer week April 18 to 22, 2023 comes to an end, we extend a huge thank you to everyone who gives of their time and talent both locally and across Canada. This special week celebrated and recognized the unique ways that people give back! Woven together from communities near and far, volunteering assures our ability to thrive, grow and evolve. Communities from coast to coast found ways throughout the week to celebrate, thank and show appreciation to those who do so much to better their communities.

During Volunteer Week, two volunteers of the Missisquoi North CABMN Volunteer Centre in Potton were recognized by Brome Missisquoi Member of Parliament, the Honorable Pascale St-Onge of the Liberal Party for their efforts in contributing to their community through volunteering. Madeleine Langlois and June Peacock pictured here were very proud to receive this recognition.

COURTESY

June Peacock and Madeleine Langlois recognized for their volunteer efforts through the CABMN in Potton

Board of Directors. She is a reception and main office volunteer, she sits on the Ken Jones Respite committee, the CAB Support Services Committee, the Human Resource Committee and helps the organization in numerous ways, especially offering immense support in the main office.

June Peacock has been volunteering with the CABMN for close to thirty years. She made numerous costumes over the years for the youth centre talent shows and theatre productions, she sits on the Ken Jones Respite and Partage Share food bank committee. June is an accompanied transport driver and helps with many fundraisers.

Both Madeleine and June represent the many volunteers giving of their spare time and know how through the CAB in support and for the betterment of their community. With approximately 250 registered volunteers from Potton, Bolton Est, Sainte Etienne de Bolton, Stukely and Eastman, the volunteer centre considers itself extremely fortunate and proud of the people power that allows the Volunteer Coordination Team of the CABMN to provide volunteer services in the MRC Memphrémagog west.

Kudos and gratitude to all who make volunteering such a vital part of community betterment!

If you would like to find out more about volunteering through the CABMN call 450-292-3114 or visit www.cabmn.org Volunteer Coordinators, Debra Harding and Gail Seymour will be happy to discuss ways that you may want to get involved.
