Gearing up for Potton's market season

THE SCOOP MABLE HASTINGS

The Municipality of Potton is looking toward spring and summer as the community prepares for market season. Whether a flea market or the weekly covered market, plans are in motion to encourage craftspeople and food, syrup, plant producers to get ready for a busy few months to come.

On Saturday, April 27 starting at 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Municipal space located in the basement of the Mansonville Catholic Church basement (324 Principale), Jeanette and Sarah-Ann Bellefeuille are hosting their Annual Mother's Day Sale.

Organizers are looking for artists wanting to rent a table to sell their creations. Whether you are a crafts person, a wood worker, a painter, or if you make jewelery, jam or soaps... If you would like to reserve a table, contact: sarah-ann95@hotmail.ca or visit the Belles Feuilles Market page on Facebook. Spaces are limited so an early reservation is wise.

"We are renting a couple of tables to sell donated second hand Jewellery, purses and scarves to raise money for the Missisquoi North Volunteer Centre (CABMN) youth programs," shares Laurette Rouleau, volunteer. "We really appreciate the Bellefeuille family inviting us to be part of this event," she added.

News from the weekly Potton Covered Market held at the Multi-functional shelter in the Parc Andre Gagnon at the north end of Mansonville throughout the summer and fall months is positive.

In 2023 the Potton Covered Market became a non-profit organization to promote a community-led approach to its governance and operations. Small scale producers and local businesses will again offer its weekly community market products to the food lovers who stop by. The market is a joyous gathering with music, children's playground equipment on-site, picnic areas, walking trails and wonderful local produce to purchase and enjoy.

Many other communities are preparing for their own markets and sales. As you do your spring cleaning and find yourself with good quality items to donate, please remember that many local causes rely on these types of donations to fulfill their mission. Reilly House in Potton, Karma in Knowlton, local Church sales, fundraisers and more...there is always a place to donate your treasures and likely folk looking for a bargain who will attend these events in support. With that said, anyone with second hand Jewellery, purses or scarves to donate in support of the CABMN youth programs, please email Mable Hastings at m.hastings@cabmn.org and your items will be picked up at your convenience. Visit the Mansonville Youth Centre Facebook page to see the programs needing your support and donations. Because of past sales, the youth centre has been able to increase and diversify its weekly programs for youth. Thank you.
